[For the Alexandria Gazette. Parsonage Papers, No. 9. By REV. Dr. KILLGORE, Pastor Methodist -Protestant Church, Alexandria, Va. THE WOMAN OF SAMARIA AND HER DIVINE

TEACHER. IV. THE EFFECTS PRODUCED.

1. On the Woman .- She became a true convert to Christianity, and labored to spread the fameof Jesus. We see in this woman what ought to be witnessed in every Christian-a desire to spread the truth. She no sooner was convinced that Messiah had made his appearance, than she communicated the information to others. In her haste, she left her water-pot at the well, and fled to the city with the joyful tidings of salvation. You may not be called to leave your secular appointments; nevertheless, you are called to preach Christ. You may relate to others what great things he has done for you, and, by a consistent life, adorn the doctrines of Christ your Saviour.

Consider its effects-2. On the Samaritans.-"And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of that woman which testified, He told me all that ever I did." Her statement was so plain, honest, and disinterested, that they were led to give credence to all she said. Her former course of life, probably, would be well known in the city; and now the change being so visible, would tend more effectually to arrest the attention of the people. Who could have imagined, had they seen her wending her way to the well at moon-day, that before the even-ing shades rested on the city, she would be a true convert; and, also, be successfully employed in publishing Christ to others? In her own sudden conversion, her diligence in setting JANNEY & CO.,
DEALERS IN forth Christ, and the success that attended her labors, we have a beautiful type of the way in which Divine truth shall spread and prevail

In the selection of preachers-

"God moves in a mysterious way." frequently converting the most unlikely, and sending them into the world as his own credentialed ambassadors. Who could have thought that Saul of Tarsus would have been arrested by Divine grace, and transformed into an Apostle of Christ to the Gentiles? Who could have thought that Bunyan, the swearing tinker, would become a preacher of the Gospel, and an author, whose productions should live through ages; and be beloved and read by all sections of the Church? The author of "Pilgrim's Progress" has exerted an influence on the world; its beneficial effects cannot be fully estimated by finite beings. Who could have thought that Clowes, equally profligate, would have become one of the most holy, respected and successful ministers in modern times. O! that such laborers were greatly multiplied! What melting, arousing, burning truths they would deliver! What unwearied efforts would characterize all their movements to do good, and spread their Master's truth, for the enlargement of his kingdom! What wrestling, agonizing, prevailing prayers they would present that their efforts might be crowned with suc cess. How closely they would imitate their Lord and Master, whose whole career was one of untiring activity—his meat and drink, the will of his Father! May such a spirit be imbibed by his followers! May we all labor to copy his example! He was the compassionate Saviour. His sermons were the overflowings of mercy What models for imitation! He also preached to a solitary individual—what an instructive lesson to his servants! "He that watereth othlesson to his servants! "He that watereth others shall himself be watered." Let us work while it is day.

God which effects such sudden and extraordinary changes as those mentioned, is still the same, and the promise is, "whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved." Sinner flee to Christ. Thou art guilty. But He is exalted a Prince and a Saviour. Thou art polluted. But He has opened a fountain for sin and uncleanness. Backslider! Thou art an unhappy wanderer from the fold. Conscience accuses. The law of God condemns. The storms of wrath are gathering. But mercy is still held out to thee. The Father waits to receive his wandering child. Hasten to his arms. Take shelter. Expose not thy soul to the storm of God's indignation. While He invites thee to return, accept the invitation. Delay not another properties of Bones. hour. "Behold now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation."

RAILROADS.—The editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate has been to New York by THIRTEEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE WITH rail, and in this week's issue of that journal gives a running account of his trip. In traversing New Jersey Dr. Bennett observed the "rich land, fat cattle, fine gardens, cosy houses, hid away in dark green foliage, and all the signs of stirring life on land and water." Af- other Fertilizer sold. Uniformity of quality ter viewing the New Jersey villages and towns guaranteed by manufacturers. he came to the conclusion that "railroad men at the North have brains and know how to use them. What helps, he asks, to build up the towns along the lines of New Jersey railroads? The following is the answer:

"Giving people facilities for travel at all hours and at low rates. This is the whole secret. We took up a time table, and noted the number of trains on a single line in one day; they mounted to thirty, and ran between the early morning hours and twelve at night. People are thus attracted from the great cities to cheap and pleasant homes in the rural districts, Why can't we have it so down in the South? People don't usually settle a country densely and then call for a railroad—the railroad is made, and becomes the magnet to attract set-

Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-tuned sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nese, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the benes of the nose iall in, and the victim of this awill disease becomes a norrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unsvirtul PRE-TENDERS who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being rewhence no traveller returns." injurious compounds, and instead of being re-stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
